

TO GIVE EVIDENCE AGAINST PACKERS

The Federal Trade Commission soon will place in the hands of President Wilson evidence to support its charges that the meat packing industry is monopolized by five big Chicago concerns, it was learned today.

The evidence will be in the form of a formal report, and is the second of a series of seven volumes being prepared by the commission. The first, issued several weeks ago, was a summary of the entire investigation together with recommendations that the government take over and operate railroad refrigeration and distribution facilities which, the commission charged, have given the five big packing concerns a monopoly.

FUNERAL OF MRS. THOMAS.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lillie Bond Thomas, widow of the late Edward H. Thomas, will be held at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, at Lee Chapel, 322 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. Mrs. Thomas died yesterday at Garfield Hospital, after several weeks' illness. Mrs. Thomas was a past matron of Bethlehem Chapter, Eastern Star. She is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Emma Bond Smith, Miss Mary Bond, and Mrs. Annie Bond Gott.

$12,000 Mark Passed By D. C. Postal Employees In The Times' War Savings Stamp Contest

Yesterday's sales of war savings stamps in the letter carriers' prize contest, being conducted under the auspices of The Times, amounted to more than $6,000, equaling the combined total sales for the two previous days and making a grand total to date of over $12,000. This is but the beginning, for, according to postoffice officials, experience in past contests has shown that a modest start is followed by sales of ever-increasing momentum, with a whirlwind finish as the result. Sales yesterday were featured by the sensational and spectacular "spurt" of Carrier J. W. Tiffany, assigned to the business section, to first place in the race, his total being $1,572.35. Of this sum $840 represents a single sale of stamps to the matron of a household. With this little

E. Bridwell	755.05
M. R. Duckett	630.00

C. L. Steidl	442.85
R. S. Ashford	371.25

next-egg as a starter, Tiffany pursued his work in dead earnest.

His Ability Demonstrated.

His route lies along Pennsylvania avenue above Ninth street, and the merchants whom he serves are just as much interested in his race as he is. The other carriers regard him as a dangerous competitor, for the reason that in the June contest he was a "dark horse" all the way until the last day, when he piled up sales that won for him a share in the prize distribution.

Another contestant, equally feared, is Riley G. Spiker, several times a prize winner. The margin of difference separating him from Tiffany is so slight that a single sale may swing the balance in his favor. His specialty seems to be sales running from $100 to $1,000 at a time and his tactics of persuasive salesmanship are almost invariably successful.

Carrier Bridwell, with $755.05 to his credit, is closely followed by Carrier Duckett, with $630. Both are engaged in "lining up" prospective buyers, and either may be expected to change the complexion of the race at almost any time.

In Residence Zones.

The records of the men in the residential sections and those attached to stations are now being compiled, and some big totals are to be expected. It is known that Andrew Berger, of the Georgetown branch, disposed of stamps to the value of $100 yesterday. Equally good records were made in other residential sections, but reports have not been completed.

CAPITAL SOLDIER MISSING IN ACTION

Charles W. Payne, twenty years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Payne, of Cherrystone, Va., is missing in action, according to a telegram received from the War Department several days ago.

The telegram received by the boy's parents states that he was missing in action on July 19. No further details have been received.

The last letter received from Payne was written in June and at the time he was thought to have been on the front. Payne is well known in Washington, having spent most of his life here. He enlisted in the District National Guard and was stationed at the Mexican border during the Mexican war. Before leaving for overseas duty in November Payne was stationed at Minola, N. Y. He went across with the Rainbow Division. Payne was educated in the schools of Virginia. His sister, Miss Grace Payne, is employed in the business department of The Times.

board to report, No. 3 won, with Nos. 8 and 9 following closely. Returns from these boards were received at the office of the acting adjutant general for the District, Major D. J. Donovan, shortly before 10 o'clock.

Other boards certified their registration soon afterward, and when the report of local board No. 10 was received at 10:45 o'clock the District figures were complete. After a hurried conference with Commissioner Brownlow, Major Donovan got the War Department on the phone and announced the registration result for Washington. He was assured that the District led all other cities in making complete returns.

The stream of men into the registration polls slackened a bit after the noon hour, and the number expected to register about 5 or 6 o'clock was not so large as anticipated. More than 1,500 registrars were on hand to till out the cards and stick to their posts until the last man had been handed one of the familiar little blue cards.

Questionnaires will be sent all registrants within a few days. These must be returned to the local board within a period of seven days after receipt. The work of classification will be taken up as soon as the questionnaires are returned, in order to prepare for the first big inductions, which are expected in the early part of October.

Millionaires, diplomats, foreign officers, Congressmen, pugilists, draft officials, Government officials, and hundreds of prominent men representing all stages of life are today carrying the blue registration cards issued them yesterday by registrars at the different precincts of registration in this city.

The District of Columbia probably has the honor of registering more prominent men than any State in the country.

Many of these men registered yesterday will be automatically exempt.

Among the prominent men connected directly with the District of Columbia who registered are Commissioners Gwynn, Gardiner, and Louis Brownlow and Major Raymond Pullman, superintendent of Police.

Secretary of the President Joseph P. Tumulty together with Ray Baker, director of the mint, registered Wednesday at local board No. 1, and re-

"Gasless" Sunday Saved Enough Cash To Feed Army 2 Days

Treasury statisticians got busy today on the saving resulting from the gasless Sunday request of the Fuel Administration. Here is what they found:

That on September 1 enough money was saved to provide General Pershing's army with 1,000 machine guns, costing $200 each; they saved enough food for the American army in France for two whole days, or enough to buy 2,500,000 hand grenades to hurl at the Germans.

These energetic statisticians also discovered that the saving in rubber tires of the one day's rest was sufficient to equip 1,200 motor trucks for the American army with tires capable of running 4,000 miles.

George Creek, chairman of the Committee on Public Information, registered yesterday at the Franklin School, and Maurice Lylin, secretary to the committee, registered at the Force School.

Herbert Hoover, Food Administrator for the United States, was given the blue registration card yesterday when he appeared at the local draft headquarters in the District Building yesterday.

French and English officers, members of the high commissions from the two foreign countries appeared at the District Building yesterday and complied with the eighteen-to-forty-five draft law.

One French officer, a major, who was registered yesterday wore the Croix de Guerre and two other war medals.

Frederick D. Keppel, Third Assistant Secretary of War signed the registration card at the headquarters of local draft board No. 7, in the District Building.

Stanley King, private secretary to Secretary Newton D. Baker, was registered in this city yesterday.

Edward B. McLean, millionaire newspaper man in this city was registered at board No. 1 on Wednesday, and receives his registration card today.

"Kid" Sullivan, prize fighter, giving his name as Harry Sheehy signed up at Board No. 7.

An Indian, calling himself Joe Davis, and his business an "Indian Peacemaker" was given the blue card yesterday when he registered.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, first assistant Secretary of the Navy, called to Washington from abroad to be registered at Hyde Park, New York.
